RECORD OVER-WATER FLIGHT MADE BY ENGLISH AVIATOR

Captain the Hon. C. S. Rolls Flew Across English Channel and Back Without Alighting

ALWAYS FINE SPORTSMAN

Hero of the Occasion Has Been Successful Bicyclist, Automobilist, Balloonist, and Aviator

Dover, England, June 3.—The Hon. Charles Stewart Rolls, captain of the London section of the army motor reserve driving a Wright bi-plane, vindicated Anglo-Saxon aeronauts by crossing the English channel twice last evening without alighting. He made the round trip between Dover and Calais in 90 minutes. While the two Frenchmen, Bleirot and Count de Lesseps have crossed the channel in an aeroplane, it remained for an Englishman and an American machine to perform the double feat.

The distance across between the two points named is 21 miles, so that his over-water flight of 42 miles without a stop has established a new record.

Beat Torpedo Boats

Captain Rolls left Dover at 6.30 o'clock. Atmospheric conditions were excellent. He lost no time in maneuvers, but after describing a circle headed towards the coast of France. In anticipation of his flight torpedo boats steamed at full speed across the straits but the pace of the aeroplane was swifter. Captain Rolls sent his machine to a height of 800 feet and at that altitude he skimmed through the air like a great bird. The motor worked perfectly.

The crowd which watched the start confidently awaited his return and it was not long before the speck which those who had telescopes saw disappear on the French coast reappeared growing larger every minute. When finally the aviator became visible to the naked eye cheer after cheer arose from the enthusiastic spectators and as he gracefully soared towards the landing place, made famous by Bleriot.

Received an Ovation

He was given an ovation as he alighted at 8 o'clock at almost the same spot as Bleriot, showing little signs of the strain of the magnificent flight.

Captain Rolls has successively followed the sports of bicycling, automobiling, ballooning and aeroplaning. At Cambridge University he was captain of the bicycle team. Later he competed successfully in numerous automobile competitions and was awarded a gold medal for his performance in the 1,000 miles trial of 1900 in England. He drove as a representative of Great Britain in the Gordon-Bennet race of 1905. Several times he broke the world's record for speed.

Captain Rolls has made more than 160 balloon ascensions, taking up the sport of the heavier than air machines he made a flight with Wilbur Wright at Lemans in October, 1908. On May 27th last he started to make a cross channel flight, but he had gone only a few yards when his engine failed him and the attempt was abandoned.

The Imperial family is of the Manchu dynasty, which dates back to 1664.

The harbor revenues were $54,000, an increase of $18,000 over May, 1909.

PLEASANT NAMES FOR ROOSEVELT

"Tyrant," "Diabolical Man" and "Blood-Thirsty Butcher" Says Egyptian Journal

Cairo, Egypt, June 3.—Nationalist editors are are executing Roosevelt with picturesque Orientalism. Sheik Ali Yousoff denounced him in his newspaper, "Al Moayad," as a tyrant full of gall, a diabolical man and a bloodthirsty butcher. "Al Moayad" is regarded as a moderate paper among the nationalists. The Coptic newspapers welcome Roosevelt's dictates as a "Golden Text."

In consequence of this the Pope, in order to prevent disturbances countermanded the plans for the celebration. No flags were hoisted and the troops wore half dress instead of full dress uniforms.

COAST TO COAST IN FOUR YEARS

Canadian Northern's Transcontinental Line Will Be Completed in That Time

MACKENZIE IS JUBILANT

He Is Greatly Elated Over His Success in Raising Money on His Recent Trip

Montreal, June 3.—William Mackenzie, president of the C.N.R., who has returned from Europe, was jubilant over the success of his financial projects in London and Brussels, and remarked that the confusion caused by the King's death was the cause of the failure of the public to take up the Dunsmuir Coal Mines' flotation. This, however, was well underwritten and there was no doubt the issue would in time be all taken up by the public. Mr. Mackenzie, however, stated that the Duluth railway issue had since then been all subscribed. This road, he said, was already built from Fort Francis, on the Canadian Northern, for one hundred miles, and would be completed to Duluth by next spring, which would give the Canadian Northern an outlet over its own lines from the wheat country to both Duluth and Fort William.

Main Line West from Edmonton.

With regard to the Canadian Northern transcontinental line, Mr. Mackenzie stated that during this year the western end would be pretty well under way between Edmonton and the Rocky Mountains, while a good start would be made on the north shore section. He expressed the hope that by four years from now their whole main line would be completed from Montreal and Toronto to the Pacific coast. The Pacific coast section would be started immediately.

There was little difficulty getting money for sound railway projects in England, he said, investors being convinced of the great future of Canada, so that they had no fear of destructive railway competition. Mr. Mackenzie was not so sure of the Montreal-Hawkesbury line, as a good deal had to be done to secure entry into both Montreal and Ottawa. Nothing would be done on their line east of Quebec this season, all their energies being devoted to the work between Montreal and Toronto and the coast.

KING GEORGE V. IS FORTY-FIVE TO-DAY

Only the Dominion Government Offices and the Schools Honored Holiday

BANKS WERE ALL OPEN

But Payments on Drafts and Notes Falling Due Could Not Be Enforced

Today is the forty-fifth anniversary of the birth of His Majesty King George V. According to the Bills of Exchange Act, it is a public holiday, but owing to a recent proclamation of His Majesty to the effect that he would celebrate his natal day upon the 24th of May, it is not being generally observed, the government offices and the schools being probably the only institutions which are marking the occasion. In the schools all the classes except the graduating ones have a holiday, while the high school is having its usual session.

The banks are all open, but as it is a legal holiday, they cannot demand payment of notes and drafts and other negotiable instruments which happen to fall due on this date. There was no business transacted at the clearing house.

The Dominion Land Office is closed and also the Dominion Land Titles Office, but the Immigration Office is carrying on its work as usual.

In fact, the only evidence that the day is an honored one throughout the Empire, is the number of flags that are flying on many of the public buildings.

H.B.C. MAKES STRONG KICK

Increase of the Assessment on Its Property Within the City Objected to

NO DECISION REACHED

After Discussing Matter for Some Time Court of Revision Left it Over

The appeals of the Hudson's Bay Company and of James Carruthers, of Montreal, from the assessments fixed by the city assessor, claimed a lot of attention from the court of revision, at a session held in the city council chamber last night. There was no definite decision in either case and they were laid over until next Monday evening when the court will discuss it further and probably announce its decision. The appeal of the C.P.R. was also laid over.

The Hudson's Bay Company was represented by Mr. John Anderson, the company's agent in Winnipeg and he objected strenuously to the increased assessment of the company's property on the part of the city. He produced figures to show that the increased assessment over last year is $122,000, the amount this year being for all the company's property, $23,682,000. The range, too, was all assessed higher. The property known as the Hudson's Bay Reserve was under discussion for some time, the company claiming that it was being assessed at the same rate that the subdivided property adjacent, while the reserve was still unsurveyed, an action which was contrary to the charter Commissioner Butchart contended, and Mr. Anderson admitted, that the Hudson's Bay Company was very fortunate to secure such a valuable tract of land in the centre of a city. Mr. Butchart stated that as such was the case, the company ought to pay a just and reasonable share towards the expenses of carrying on the work of the city. The city's assessment of the property is $1,000 an acre, and there are about 1,500 acres altogether.

The property situated along the bank of the Saskatchewan river, and on which the golf links are located, caused some discussion, the company's agent again objecting to the rate of assessment. They claimed that the property could not be converted for building lots, but on the contrary was only good for a park or something of that kind. Commissioner Butchart interjected that the city had at various times attempted to purchase the property for that very purpose but that the company had refused even to set a price, nor would they offer it as a gift. This property is assessed at $2,000 an acre. A number of lots in the vicinity of Tenth street and Jasper avenue were also under discussion, the agents of the company claiming that the new subway would in all probability be built there and would affect their value.

Mr. James A. Carruthers' property, which is situated in Glenora, was the cause of a hot debate. The property in question is being assessed for over four times as much as it was last

E. H. RILEY RESIGNS SEAT IN GLEICHEN

Resignation is a Protest Against Lieutenant Governor's Action in Calling on Sifton to Form Government

WANT PLACE FOR CUSHING

Former Member of Public Works Wires Approval of Mr. Riley's Action — Riley Will Run Again

Calgary, June 3.—E. H. Riley, M. L. A. for Gleichen, has resigned, giving as his reason that he is dissatisfied with Lieutenant Governor Bulyea's action in calling on Sifton to form a government and also with the elimination of W. H. Cushing from the cabinet.

It is understood that he will run again.

Riley's name was one of those contained in the premature announcement of the Cushing cabinet.

Mr. Cushing wires from Red Deer that he approves of Riley's action.

An Insurgent Member.

Riley was elected in the bye-election of 1907 when Mr. Justice Stuart resigned, and was again elected at the general elections of 1909. He was one of the foremost insurgents at the last session of the Legislature.

Riley Explains.

The following is the open letter he has addressed to his constituents:

"To the electors of the electoral division of Gleichen:

"Gentlemen—I respectfully and reluctantly beg to hand you herewith my resignation as your member in the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Alberta. In taking this step I deem it my duty to place my reasons for doing so before you, and then I am prepared to leave the matter in your hands, conscious of the fact that the same spirit of friendship that has characterized our past associations will continue.

"On the 9th day of November, 1906, at the largest and most enthusiastic political convention that has ever been held in a provincial riding in the province of Alberta, you conferred upon me an honor that any man may justly feel proud to accept—that of a parliamentary nomination. That nomination was the more appreciated by virtue of the fact that it came from a body of men representing that shade of political thought that has been accepted, endorsed and fought for by some of the Empire's greatest statesmen.

Hits at Cabinet.

"As a young Albertan who for twenty years previous had watched with pride and satisfaction the province's triumphant march to greatness, I say it was with a feeling of justifiable pride that I accepted the responsibility of assisting the moulding of her future course. For three years past I have attempted, to the best of my limited ability, to serve you, gentlemen, and the Province of Alberta as a whole according to my conception of what was in the truest and highest interest of this great province and in returning to you the trust which you placed in my hands, I do so only when I feel that I can no longer ally myself with those who are temporarily in authority.

Insurgent Position.

"On February 10th last a session of the legislature was convened at Edmonton. For some time prior to the assembling of the House rumors had Hamilton, June 3.—The practical effect of fire drills in the public schools was made apparent yesterday afternoon when an alarm of fire sounded in the various rooms, the children ran for their hats and coats and forming in line passed to the ground floor and outside. The filling of the school with a pungent smoke created the impression that the building was on fire. No damage outside that to the motor was done.

WINNIPEG CARRIED EXPOSITION BYLAW

The Vote Was the Largest Ever Polled for a Civic Bylaw

Winnipeg, June 3.—The Centennial Exposition bylaw guaranteeing one half million dollars was carried in Winnipeg yesterday by the largest vote ever polled for a civic bylaw. The whole west was interested in the result of Winnipeg's action, which makes sure that Canada's first great interncional exposition will be held in Winnipeg in 1914. The voters yesterday defeated the bylaw to grant four hundred thousand dollars to the general hospital, but carried a vote of a hundred thousand dollars towards a tuberculosis hospital.

FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1910.

The C. P. R. should require no more definite assurance that the province will aid the high level bridge project than that given by Premier Sifton yesterday. In the first place the city assumed the responsibility for raising all the money required. The vote on the agreement was rushed through in order that the work might go on during the winter. Mr. Peters knew that the legislature would not meet and confirm the provincial government's promise till February at the earliest and he gave out an interview in which he spoke of the desirability of starting operations when the river froze over. It is surprising therefore, that the statement should be made so freely that the company is not responsible for the delay. It has a perfect right to wait till the money that is to come from the province is actually voted by the legislature. But when the matter was up before the citizens last year and it was anxious to get them to agree to the terms of entrance, there was no suggestion that nothing would be done till the legislature took action. Everyone understood that work would begin almost immediately. It was necessary that it should if the whole project were completed, as Mr. Peters stated, in eighteen months at the outside. We trust that there will be no further delay now that the new premier has given so positive an answer, but the situation looks about the same as it did in the early winter.

The Calgary Herald says:

"The good people of Edmonton are worried about the Calgary University and persist in believing that it is aimed at the provincial institution in Strathcona. We can assure them that such is not the case. The Calgary university will grow only as the necessity for it grows. It will not be a forced plant. Its usefulness will be demonstrated by the prosperity that will surely come to it, and it would be too much to ask that Calgary and all southern Alberta should refuse to supply that necessity which is becoming so obvious. If the provincial university should justify its existence along the same lines then it will have no reason to fear the Calgary institution. If it cannot, then by the logic of facts, it should not exist at all.

"Calgary wishes the Alberta university well, but will not cease the organization of its own local institution. The Calgary university will be one of the must useful factors in building up this city. It will confirm the city in its present position as the leading centre of art, education and culture in the middle west, and will be an advertising force of great value in placing the advantages of the city as a place of residence before the people of the south and east."

What was principally objected to not only by the people of Edmonton, as represented by the newspapers, but by those of other parts of the province as well, was the proposition to divert provincial funds towards the support of the Calgary institution. Alberta will have its hands full for some years to come in properly maintaining one university and a division of effort and resources between two of them would be fatal to both. Universities, to be efficient, must have considerable money spent upon them. If Calgary has so much of this commodity to throw around that it can afford to devote it to an utterly needless project, it is, of course, at perfect liberty to do so. But there are no indications that any large measure of support for it will come from outside the city boundaries. Such as it should receive would, however, weaken the provincial institution just to that extent. The latter requires all the aid that the province can give it, and those who move to set up a rival to it at this stage cannot wish it well. The Herald's statement that they do being plainly absurd

A woman stood all night outside the Edmonton land office this week in order to file on a certain homestead. Every week or so some other feat of long endurance in this connection is brought to the public's notice. Cannot some more satisfactory system be devised of disposing of these coveted bits of land. Our neighbors to the south in the disposal of Indian lands have a drawing from a hat This would be much better than to make it necessary, as with us at present, for those desiring to take up homestead duties to undergo the hardships of standing in line for hours and days at a time. Those who are not able or willing to undergo such a test should not be discriminated against.

What Others Say

NO NEED TO RUSH

(New York Post)

If we may credit a Princeton lecturer, reported in the Washington Star, the late Mr. Cleveland was disposed to have a little fun at the expense of those Americans to whom life is devouring and incessant activity.

"Mr. Cleveland," said the lecturer, "had no sympathy with the rush and hurry that our business men so complacently affect, no sympathy with the lunch-table telephone, with the boat distation.

"'Don't rush so,' Mr. Cleveland once said to me. 'Lightning might do a great deal more if it wasn't always in such an awful hurry.'"

"BRITISH"

(Montreal Witness)

We have not seen any finer, more loyal or more genuine tributes to King Edward than have appeared in the French press of this province. They represent the mourning of a people who feel that they have lost their own King. For that reason we wish the French language had some other imperial adjective than Anglais (English.) When the French speak of British Columbia they say English Columbia, and when they speak of the British Sovereign they call him the English Sovereign—thus in language and people and sentiment separating him from themselves. English is an aggressive word. In the ends of the earth a Scotchman or an Irishman becomes an Englishman if he wants it to be understood by the natives to what power he belongs. Many of them would greatly prefer if they could be known as British, for British they are and English they are not It is the same with us Canadians. We are British to the core, but we are not English.

HALLEY

(W. J Lampton in New York Tribune.)

Did anybody here see Halley,
Halley with a great long tail?
Did anybody here see Halley?
And suddenly turn pale?
Halley, they say, was It?
Did anybody here see Halley?
And throw a comit fit?
Did anybody here see Halley?
Harry, the starry josh?
Did anybody here see Halley?
And feel his passing wash?
Did anybody here see Halley?
Halley, whom all of us know?
Did anybody here see Halley?
Halley, with his bobtail show?
Did anybody here see Halley?
Halley, they'd billed to come
With a show that was worth the money
But, oh! say, wasn't it bum?
Did anybody here see Halley?
If anybody did, by heck!
He ought to be bounced if he didn't
Hand him one in the neck.

BOTHA'S REMARKABLE CAREER

The career of General Botha is one of the most remarkable examples in recent history, both of the success of personality and of the extraordinary absorbing powers of British institutions Less thna eleven years ago Louis Botha was an ordinary member of the Transvaal volksraad, sufficiently alive to the folly of Krueger's reactionary and aggressive policy to express his dissatisfaction, but without any powers to influence the course of events. A few months later his courage, energy and inborn generalship brought him to the supreme command of the Transvaal forces. For over two years he sustained against the might of the British empire a struggle whose hopelessness he realized far better than any of his followers. When the inevitable end came near it was his influence with his people that turned the scale in favor of a formal surrender which preserved the cohesion and moral self-respect of the Boers, and, incidentally, ensured his own supremacy as their political leader. In that capacity, the crown colony administration found him a determined and somewhat captious critic. But throughout he remained loyal to his interpretation of the agreement concluded at Vereeniging, and with a firm hand guided his people into the quiet channel of ordinary party politics. In less than five years from the peace he was prime minister of the Transvaal. At the union conventions his was the dominating figure, and his acceptance of, and loyal adherence to, the principles of complete union and equal political rights secured the triumph of those principles.

"Yes," said the boy, "and don't you do it again. When I told my mother she licked me."—Saturday Evening Post.

Naturalization

An alien applied to be naturalized and was handed a form to fill out, containing the questions he was required to answer. This is how the first three queries were replied to when the form was handed back:

"Name: Nicholas Levinsky.
"Born: Yes.
"Business: Rotten."—Jewish Chronicle.

Applaud the Truth

Low Comedian—After all these years Eggbert has at last succeeded in making a hit with the audience."

Soubrette—"How does he do it?"

Low Comedian—You know he has always played villain roles.

Low Comedian—Well, in the last act of a new play the author allows him to repent and say, "I've been a miserable villain.' That confession invariably brings down the house."

The New Plan

"Own up, now. Who's the head of your family?"

"My wife used to be," admitted Mr. Enpeck, "but since my daughters have grown up, we have a commission form of government."

Due Precaution

The inspector in the electric light plant received word that a wire was down on a crowded street. He hurried to the spot, and found the bystanders handling the broken wire in a very careless manner. Luckily, it was not one of the lines that carried the high-tension current for the lights

An Irish crossing-tender approached the inspector.

"I saw the wire hanging down there an' I picked it up and lugged it over there out of the way."

"Well," said the inspector, "you took a big chance. You shouldn't have touched that wire; you didn't know what was in it You might have been killed."

"Ah!" said the crossing-tender, with a knowing nod, "I was mighty careful, sor, Sure, I felt of it before I took hold of it."

Strong on Discretion

Discretion is a beautiful thing, and here is a story about an Irish tailor who had a heap of it. One morning Mrs Murphy a customer, came into the shop and found him busy with pencil and paper. She asked him what he was doing.

"Oi'm making a list of the min in this town who Oi can lick."

"Hev yez got Murphy's name down?" asked she.

"Murphy heads me list."

Home flew Mrs. Murphy and broke the news to her man. He was in the tailor's shop in a jiffy.

"Me wife tells me that ye're after making a memorial tablet uf the min that yez can lick, and that ye've got me at the head of it. Is that true?"

"Shure and it's true. What of it?" said the tailor.

"Ye-good-for-nothin' little grasshopper, I could commit suicide on yez with me finger. I could wipe up the flure wid yez wid me hands tied behind me."

"Are ye shure of that?"

"Shure? I'm shure about it"

"Well, then," said the tailor, "if ye are shure of it I'll scratch ye off the lisht."

NEW MINISTERS TO BE OPPOSED

Coming Bye-Elections May Be Contested by Candidates in Conservative Interests

The Calgary Albertan says: The Conservatives say that it is likely that all of the cabinet ministers will be opposed It is pretty certain, however, that the opposition to Mr. Sifton and Mr. McLean will not be very strenuous. Mr. Sifton has been offered any of five seats in the north of the riding. He will probably select Lac Ste. Anne where Peter Gunn is retiring to accept a position in the department of Dominion fisheries.

Mr. McLean will be elected easily over any person who opposes him in Lethbridge riding.

As Mr. Finlay has resigned from the Medicine Hat riding, Mr. Mitchell will be a candidate for that riding. The Medicine Hat Times, the Conservative paper in that riding, says that it is practically certain that Mr. W. Huckvale will be the Conservative candidate. He was selected some time ago, before Mr. Mitchell was mentioned as a probability He is a brother-in-law and close friend of the new cabinet minister.

But the battle in Olds will probably be the keenest of all. In none of the others will the question of insurgency enter to any great extent. But it will doubtless be discussed from the Olds platform. The onCservative will centre forces upon this riding and give active opposition. As Mr. Marshall is an experienced campaigner, this election will certainly be a very spectacular one.

SNOW STORM WAS GENUINE BLESSING

Eight Years Ago a Similar Unseasonable Fall Caused a Heavy Crop

Calgary, June 3.—It is believed that the rain and snow will benefit the crops because the moisture in the shape of snow is far better than rain The farmers are becoming anxious owing to the prolonged dry spell, but the snow has dissipated their fears Eight years ago on the 28th of June a very heavy snow fall ocurred and the crops were exceptionally heavy and the agriculturists anticipate similar conditions this year. The real estate men welcome the snow too, for the threatened drought had scared investors and money was becoming tight.

RESPONSIBILITY IS WHAT AGE LACKS

See That Your Grandchildren Have Good Grandparents, Says This Preacher

Galesburg, Ill., June 3.—In his baccalaureate sermon to the serious of Lombard college, President Lewis B. Fisher lamented the lack of responsibility, which he declared is a characteristic of the times and which he said prevails among the multitudes. He said the curren lack of a sense of responsibility makes it hard to inculcate right ideas in boys

"How hard," he excla'med, "the grafter, with his easily accumulated money, his display of wealth, his automobile, and apparent enjoyment of life, makes it for the boy to follow the example of Abraham Lincoln. How hard the tyrant who wrings his riches from the toil of children, from the exploiting of women, and grinding of poorly paid and ill-treated men, makes it to instill in them any belief that there is a great and good God.

Dr. Fisher advised members not to take too much pride in their ancestors, but to make sure their own grandchildren have good grandparents

OCTOPUS REACHING OUT

Pittsburg, June 3.—The United States Steel Corporation through its subsidiary companies, has inaugurated a plan which it is believed will eventually put out of business a large majority of the iron and steel jobbers of the United States. The steel corporation intends to deal direct with small consumers The policy of refusing to deal with steel brokers was inaugurated by the Carnegie Steel Company before the steel corporation was formed. The Carnegie Steel Company is completing a large warehouse here and will handle at retail all sorts of finished products.

MINERS RESCUED

London, June 3.—Six miners were overcome by fire damp in the pit at Croy, Dumbartonshire yesterday, but were gallantly rescued by their companions, one of whom collapsed

GIFT TO CHURCH IN CHILD'S HONOR

Donation to a Chicago Roman Catholic Church Recalls the Young Woman's Murder

SLAIN BY A POLICEMAN

Dead Girl Had Given Her Life to Charitable Work and Would Not Marry

Chicago, June 3.—The love of a mother for her murdered daughter was expressed by a donation of $50,000 to St. Edmund's Roman Catholic Church at Oak park.

The announcement of the gift came when Archbishop Quigley unveiled a window depicting the Resurrection in memory of Mrs. Mary Mulveil, the donor's stipulation having been that her gift be a secret until the church was dedicated.

Behind the bequest, which made possible the erection of a Roman Catholic church in Oak Park, lies the tragedy of the death of Miss Minnie Catherine Mulveil, known as "the angel of St. James' parish," when she and her mother resided at 2641 Michigan avenue.

Devotes Life to Charity

The young woman, though but 22, possessed a fortune of $250,000 which she had inherited from her father in 1897. She was devoted to religious work and gave generously to charity.

Miss Mulveil died Feb. 27, 1905, and her slayer and disappointed admirer, Policeman Daniel J. Herman, committed suicide the following day.

Miss Mulveil met Herman at a church social and regarded him as she did any other fellow religionist, not dreaming of his infatuation for her. He proposed and was refused.

Later his love making took a violent turn and he trailed her on her visits to poor parishioners and on errands of mercy. Finally, realizing the uselessness of his suit, he determined to kill the object of his admiration, and openly threatened to kill her.

The girl, unwilling to alarm her mother, strove by appeals to his manhood to induce him to leave her in peace. On the morning of her death Miss Mulveil played the organ at early mass in St. James' church, Twenty-ninth street, and Wabash avenue, and assisted the teachers in the parochial school. She spent the morning in the "baby room" looking after the kindergarten work and at 11:30 went to the offices of the Sisters of Mercy.

Slain in Street by Policeman.

After leaving them she walked toward her residence on Michigan avenue and was met by Herman, who flourishing a revolver, asked her again to marry him. She still refused. Then the policeman shot her twice.

Until her own death the mother also devoted her life to charity, disposing of her daughter's personal fortune and her own. In 1907 she moved to Oak Park and became interested in the work of Rev. John J. Coue who was building up the first Catholic parish in that village. The meetings were being held in a barn. Mrs. Mulveil aided the young priest until he secured enough parishioners to warrant the purchase of a church site.

BE SURE AND DON'T PASS ON YOUR GUM

Chicago Hygienist Deprecates Economy When Carried to too Great Extremes

Chicago, June 3.—"Don't chew gum nor let your children chew it. If they must chew it, don't, don't let them 'pass it on.' And never let children 'give the core' of an apple to another."

The old order changeth in the vicity of West Park No. 2. Many children and adults of that neighborhood heard these doctrines advanced by Miss Edna Foley of the Chicago Tuberculosis institute in an illustrated talk on "Cure and Prevention of Tuberculosis," held under the auspices of the Jewish Consumptive Relief society.

"We want all of your children to exercise and sleep in well aired rooms," continued Miss Foley, "and then your bodies will be strong enough to resist the germs that are present almost everywhere."

PROVINCIAL MEET

WAUKESKA SCANDAL

Waukeska, Wis., June 3.—The row over the display in the downtown district of a billboard copy of the label of a certain Waukesha mineral spring water has not been ended by the demand in the city council that the water company hang petticoats about the unclad waist of the Psyche who is peering into the limpid pool. LYNCH WILL MANAGE MINERS

Was Unanimous Choice of the Directors—Looks Like a Good Appointment

Lethbridge, June 2.—The directors of the Lethbridge ball club have made a change in the management of the team. Joe Lynch will now handle the reins in place of Chesty Cox.

No radical changes are looked for under the new management, but Lynch will immediately strive to strengthen up some of the weak points in the line-up. Last night after receiving word of his appointment he wired to Spokane for another catcher and set the strings working for a couple of other good men.

Lynch has the confidence of the baseball public at large in his ability to deliver the goods and he was the unanimous choice of the directorate of the club.

It his not been settled yet whether Cox will remain with the team.

Chesty Cox previous to his release from the Lethbridge club let First Baseman O'Hayer oust, but Joe Lynch, the new manager, immediately re-engaged him.

CHESTY HERE TODAY

Secretary Dewar of the Edmonton baseball club informed the Capital last evening that Chesty has signed with Edmonton, despite all reports from Regina. Chesty will be in the city today and most probably will play right field tonight, against Brandon.

Manager Morrow with his Brandon Angels arrived in Edmonton yesterday afternoon and, weather permitting, will play a three game series with the Eskimos. Game tonight at 6.30 and Saturday, there will be a double-header, with games at 3 o'clock and 6.30.

Tommy Smith and Bill O'Brien, who were popular members of Denny McGuire's Irishmen, are with the Angels.

ROW AMONGST PHILLIES

Philadelphia, June 2.—Geo. McQuillan, star twirler of the National league team was last night fined $250 and indefinitely suspended by President Fogel, who says there is a clique in his team and several others will be punished unless they show improvement.

INSIDE BASEBAL

The catcher flashed an almost imperceptible signal to the first baseman.

The first baseman glanced at the sun.

The pitcher, who had paid no attention to either, then noticed that the first baseman had changed his quid of tobacco to the other cheek.

Whereupon he sent a straight, fast ball right over the plate, and the batter made a two base hit.

It doesn't always work.—Chicago Tribune.

ST. GEORGES VS. CALLIES

One of the best football matches of the season will take place this evening, at the Second street grounds, when St. Georges and Callies A. meet in their city league feature. HUSK CHANCE WRITES BOOK

Breaks Into the Literature League With a Sacrifice Hit Entitled "The Bride and the Pennant."

After a long period in the public eye as one of the brainiest men connected with baseball, Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago Cubs, has made his bow to the public as the author of a book. It is hardly necessary to state that the story has to do with baseball, but it does not stop there. "The Bride and the Pennant," is the title of Mr. Chance contribution to current fiction and every baseball fan in the country will read it with avidity. Interwoven with a breezy tale of the baseball diamond is a love story that suffers nothing in comparison with many others written by persons with more claim to distinction in the field of literature than the versatile manager of the Cubs. In "The Bride and the Pennant" Mr. Chance has his "hero" in a young college student named Sherman, who has paid more attention to pit ching than to plugging. He fails in his exams. joins a baseball team that the reader will quickly discern as the Chicago Cubs, and has a good deal to do with winning the pennant for his club and the girl of his heart for himself. Mr. Chance introduces his readers to many stars of the National league and treats all their peculiarities in a manner that will grip the attention of the baseball "bug." The book has a preface by Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, and is published by Laird and Lee, of Chicago

JACK JOHNSON ANSWERS JIM

Treat's Corbett's Insinuation With Cold Sarcasm—Adds that J. J. Has Yellow Streak

San Francisco, June 2.—Jack Johnson's day off from hard training was spent in drawing up a written answer to James J. Corbett's statement regarding the negro's ring courage. Johnson appears to be uncommonly exercised over his long distance word contest with the former champion.

"In reply to James J. Corbett," his document begins, "I wish to state that it is not my purpose to enter into any maudlin combat with him. However he who has been posing under the alias of "Gentleman Jim" had started this campaign long before he reached San Francisco.

"Possibly he may believe that I will have to take such insults as he intimates on account of color. As to his assertion that I have a yellow streak maybe he is right. Still, no one has been able up to the present, to produce it.

Johnson intimates Corbett showed cowardice in his meetings a decade ago with Tom Sharkey, and wants to know if Corbett's behavior in those events would come under the heading of "yellow streak." The statement concludes:

"As to you coming to my quarters and boxing, I would be ashamed to ever offer you inducements, after the expressions of many as to your shattered frame. In fact, if the truth were known, you hardly scale the middleweight limit. Now I hope and trust this may appease your appetite for gallery play fo which you are famed."

WILL SPLIT THAT PURSE

So Says John L.—Can't Figure Jeff Will Come Back—Jem Mace Only one Who Did

"If Jeff is right," said John L. Sullivan, pointing a finger that looked as big as a banana, "he'll take that coon and bite his ears off. But, I dunno. I can't figure out how he can come back after being out of the game for years and lickin' up the stuff that never did nobody any good. I've got it in my nut that Jeff has been out too long, but I'm hopin' for the best. It would be a h—l of a joke for the white race if the smoke slipped one over, hey?"

"Mr. Sullivan, do you think the fight will be on the level?"

"Well, it had better be," said John, deep down in his chest, "I wouldn't want to be in the ring if twenty or thirty thousand American citizens got wise to the fact that they had been flimflammed. But I can't tell from here. The guys acted like a lot of cheap skates framing up the battle. What did they do? Hey? Well, they shoot out enough hot air to carry Zeppilin to the north pole and back, then they trot over to Hoboken with a band and all the wine agents they could collect, got photographed, tell the newspaper men that all is arranged and the next time they meet they bar the reporters. That's a h—l of a way to promote a fight, handin' the icy mitt to the newspaper men. Where would we be, all of us, without the newspapers? Hey? The public wouldn't know these fighters were alive if it wasn't for the news-papers. What th' h—l were they doin' behind them closed doors? I ain't sayin' it's a frameup. Don't think it is, but I don't like the smell.

"Jeff and the coon will split that purse sure as you're a foot high. That 75 to the winner and 25 to the loser stuff doesn't sound right to your Uncle John. They don't care for the glory, as we old fellows used to; they want the cash in the mitt."

THOSE WERE HAPPY DAYS.

The good old baseball days are gone,
or so my daddy thinks,
He does not like the line-ups now, nor the players' modern kinks.
He's sore because Mike Donlin's gone
and Jiggs and Issy too,
Without Moran and handsome Nick he's positively blue.

He talks about those rare old days
when Commy donned the suit
And Hughey Jennings played short connected with the snoot.
He loves to talk of Broadway John
(that's dear old Muggsy Mac.)
He sings the songs that Kelly sang, and wishes all were back.

He talks sometimes of Captain Anse
at seven -forty rate:
He knows old Pop's history—that line
of his was great,
A marvelous thing he can recall—now
please don't take a fit—
He claims he can remember when the White Sox team could hit.

TROUBLE IN SMOKE'S CAMP

Johnson Intends Giving Manager Little a Blue Ticket—George and Hart Had Scrap

San Francisco, Cal., June 3.—That Billy Nolan, formerly manager of Battling Nelson, will eventually assume command at Johnson's training camp is the story that gained credence last night. The story is backed by a fight that took place between Manager George Little and Sig Hart, one of the training staff. As gossip goes there has been anything but harmony between Little and Hart, and it nearly culminated in a physical contest in which Little is said to have stretched Hart out on the road while the members of the camp were playing baseball. There was an end to the affair only when Johnson gave Little a tongue lashing. It is said that Little has been shorn of all real authority. Nolan has admitted that he has been indirectly sounded on the subject of taking charge. Nolan was instrumental in having Billy Delaney installed as chief advisor at the Johnson camp.

TROUBLE OVER BROOKINS

Medicine Hat, June 3.—Last night's game was forfeited by Regina to Medicine Hat, Walters refusing to play without Brookins, the alleged negro who has been barred from the game by President Eckstrom. Umpire Wheeler received a wire from the president giving explicit instructions that Brookins was not to play. Walters pulled his team off the field and became liable for the $50 fine which the president has stated that he will impose on managers taking such action.

WINNIPEG FOUR LEFT FOR HENLEY

Large Crowd at Station Gave Them Enthusiastic Send Off —Chances Are Good

Winnipeg, June 2.—The Winnipeg four for the Henley regatta were given a hearty send-off from the C P. R. depot yesterday afternoon when they travelled east to board the Empress of Britain which sails for England on Friday next.

There was a large crowd on hand, including many ladies, to bid 'them good bye, and "bon voyage." When the train started to pull out of the station the crew, composed of Frank Carruthers, Jerry Aldous, Paddy Allen and Con Riley, were given three such hearty cheers and a tiger which they will long remember.

From the moment they arrived on the platform until the "All aboard" was given, they were busy shaking hands of farewell

Only two hours before they boarded the train the oarsmen had their last exercise on the Red river before taking the boat to Henley. They paddled up and down stream and as they got out of the boat Jerry Aldous said, "Now for the Thames."

As previously stated, a new boat is being built by Sims, the celebrated builder at Putney, and the trouble of carrying a shell across the water is therefore dispensed with.

Messrs. K. B. Stoddard and Mr. Dobbell were also members of the party.

HIT HARD WAS ORDER OF DAY

Jeff Knocks His Sparring Partners Around—Berger, Choynski, Armstrong Suffered

Ben Lomond, June 3.—"Hit Hard" was the order at J. J. Jeffries' camp when the former champion resumed boxing after a rest of more than a week. Jeffries told his sparring partners that if they did not slug, he would. Bob Armstrong was first man up. He rushed Jeffries from the start and set a lively pace for the three rounds. Just before time was called for the bout, Jeffries drove his left in Bob's middle and he doubled up in a lump. Choyinski was on for three rounds. The main event however, was the two round go with Sam Berger. Sam hit hard and Jeffries replied in kind, much to Berger's discomfiture. These bout were the nearest approach to the real thing since Jeffries started to work. Then followed a bit of head work. After the boxing came a fast handball game with Corbett, after which Jeffries punched the bag.

The opening of Jeffries' private eating establishment, watched over by his wife, was another event of the day. Jeffries, his brother and their wives will be served at this mess which will be served from a private kitchen by private watch. A signed statement was issued today by Jeffries on the recent discussion as to the possibility of retirement of Tex Rickard as referee and the substitution of Eddie Smith. "In reference to the referee matter my opinion is this: I have accepted Rickards, after stating my preference for Smith. After accepting Mr. Rickards. in whom I have every confidence, I cannot very well ask him to resign He is good enough for me, but in the event of his not wishing to act against his own feelings, then Mr. Smith is acceptable to me. This is however decidedly up to Rickard, as I will not accept a man and then ask him to resign. Either man is acceptable to me."

CORINTHIAN TOUR OFF

ACCEPT BASEBALL CHALLENGE.

The widespread challenge of the Ross Bros. baseball team has excited attention. The city bankers take much pleasure in accepting the deli and will play the stove jugglers at any time or place.

MACLEOD LOSES FIRST

Claresholm, June 1.—The high wind and threatening storm did not make baseball impossible until Claresholm had clearly beaten the Macleod baseball team this afternoon. The game was called in the eighth innings with Claresholm leading by 16 runs to six. The Macleod team was without Grayson who has been recalled by Lethbridge. Spud Murphy was the Macleod dinger. Ardell pitched a good game for Claresholm. This is the first defeat for Macleod.

GIVE THE UMPS. A FAIR CHANCE

A Few Home Truths From a Winnipeg Paper—It Applies to Edmonton As Well

The Winnipeg Tribune in last Saturday's issue severely criticizes the followers of baseball in the big mogul city for knocking the umpire. The following is said on the subject:

"It's about time some of the Winnipeg fans realized that an umpire is a human being, and, being such, prone to err. Nearly every day there are a few who sit in the stand and make themselves ridiculous to the conservative-minded spectator by inane criticism of every close play. Naturally an umpire will miss a few balls and strikes in every game, while he may occasionally slip on a base decision. If an umpire were perfect he would be the greatest living wonder on the face of the earth. In comparison to the umpiring of last season Charlie Smith, who has been officiating at River Park, has been phenominally good, yet there are people, in no position to judge the plays, who have been criticizing his decisions in absurd manner. He seems to be a conscientious arbitrator and it is an injustice that he should be made the butt of a continual stream of knocks from a few who rob other spectatirs of any real enjoyment. Good legitimate rooting livens up a ball game, but uncalled for and spurious sarcasm mars it. Give the umpire a chance. Goodness knows he has enough trouble on the field

CORONATION CUP RACE

Epsom, England, June 3.—The Coronation Cup, a weight for age race, run over the Derby course, was won yesterday by L. Wiman's Sir Martin. J. Lowry's Batchelor's Double being second and W. Raphael's Louviers third. The also rans included Mirador, Dean Swift, Bombay, Mustapha, Sunbright and Bonnechance. Had his late Majesty lived Minoru would have been a certain starter for this race, which generally attracts a high-class field. Bayardo was entered but did not start. "Skeets" Martin, a famous American jockey, rode the winner. The odds were 5 to 1 against Sir Martin, 100 to 6 against Bachelor's Double and 100 to 7 against Louviers.

SAFE FOR RADIUM

It has capacity for One Billion Dollars Worth

London, June 3.—What is described by makers as the most ingenious safe ever constructed has just been completed by the Chubb company for the British Radium Corporation. The problem presented to the manufacturers was not only to construct a safe that would bid defiance to the burglars, but would at the same time prevent the escape of the radium. It is well known to scientists that radium emanations will pass through the thickest and hardest steel. For this reason the inner coffer of the safe was made of three inches thick, enclosed with a burglar proof shell.

There are many other special features including a means of collecting the radium emanations before the coffer is opened. This compartment of the safe is designed to hold one hundred pounds of radium valued at five billion dollars. The total weight of the safe is one and a half tons.

JOKE WAS FATAL

Baltimore, Md., June 3.—Just one minute after laughing heartily over a joke that was sprung by one of his companions, Antoine Zeitvogel, 48 years of age, gasped slightly and died.

IMPORTED WIVES

New York, June 3.—Nearly one hundred young Scotch women, betrothed to men who have been in America from six months to several years, arrived in the first and second cabin and steerage of the Anchor liner Caledonia from Glasgow Some of the first cabin voyagers were met at the pier by men who took them away to marry them. The steerage passengers, who were taken to Ellis Island, may be released and married tomorrow.

Easily Roused

Smith—"Do you find it hard to wake in the morning?"

Jones—"Not a bit. After the cook calls me at 6.30 and the alarm clock rings at 6.45 and the 7 o'clock whistles blow and my wife pulls me out of bed at 7.15, I seldom fail to be roused."

SHOT TO DEATH BY HIS FRIENDS

Soldier Had Fallen Asleep Under a Rifle Range—Wakened by Bullets

HEAD ALMOST SHOT OFF

After He Was First Hit He Lay Helpless Waiting for the Fatal Shot

Monterey, Cal., June 3.—His body an unseen target for the rain of bullets of a firing squad at rifle practice, Claude Hetheron, a private of company K, thirteenth infantry, who was taking measurements of the range, was shot to pieces and died after two days.

The accident happened last week, but the facts have just come to light. An investigation of the affair delayed the funeral until yesterday.

All during the afternoon of the day he was shot, Hetherton crept about on the embankment, peppered with lead while the bullets whizzed about him His cries could not be heard. After the first bullet had brought him down, he made an effort to get out of range, but no matter which way he turned, his escape was cut off by the flying missiles.

Sinks and Waits Fatal Shot

Finally he sank on the sand mound awaiting the shot that would end his torture. Bullets sped about him, riping his clothing and tearing his flesh. When markers found him his head had been shot nearly off.

Hetherton had been sent out to measure the ground and make a preliminary survey adjacent to the Presidio shooting range. The Monteroy Presidio is one of the national schools of musketry and soldiers of the Thirteenth infantry are all aware that target practice is a matter of almost daily occurrence.

Hetherton was sent out in the morning. Instead of returning to the post he evidently decided to take a nap. There was no shooting when he lay down, but before he awoke rifles opened, 3 wires and willow posts; buildings, fine water; a railroad will be built this year one mile from this farm; contractors are now on the ground hiring teams to work on this; look at this if you want a choice half section; price $12.50 per acre for one quarter, $11 per acre for the other, on very easy terms.

Sinks and Waits Fatal Shot

Finally he sank on the sand mound awaiting the shot that would end his torture. Bullets sped about him, riping his clothing and tearing his flesh. When markers found him his head had been shot nearly off.

Hetherton had been sent out to measure the ground and make a preliminary survey adjacent to the Presidio shooting range. The Monteroy Presidio is one of the national schools of musketry and soldiers of the Thirteenth infantry are all aware that target practice is a matter of almost daily occurrence.

Hetherton was sent out in the morning. Instead of returning to the post he evidently decided to take a nap. There was no shooting when he lay down, but before he awoke rifles opened, 3 wires and willow posts; buildings, fine water; a railroad will be built this year one mile from this farm; contractors are now on the ground hiring teams to work on this; look at this if you want a choice half section; price $12.50 per acre for one quarter, $11 per acre for the other, on very easy terms.

SAFE FOR RADIUM

It has capacity for One Billion Dollars Worth

London, June 3.—What is described by makers as the most ingenious safe ever constructed has just been completed by the Chubb company for the British Radium Corporation. The problem presented to the manufacturers was not only to construct a safe that would bid defiance to the burglars, but would at the same time prevent the escape of the radium. It is well known to scientists that radium emanations will pass through the thickest and hardest steel. For this reason the inner coffer of the safe was made of three inches thick, enclosed with a burglar proof shell.

There are many other special features including a means of collecting the radium emanations before the coffer is opened. This compartment of the safe is designed to hold one hundred pounds of radium valued at five billion dollars. The total weight of the safe is one and a half tons.

JOKE WAS FATAL

Baltimore, Md., June 3.—Just one minute after laughing heartily over a joke that was sprung by one of his companions, Antoine Zeitvogel, 48 years of age, gasped slightly and died.

IMPORTED WIVES

New York, June 3.—Nearly one hundred young Scotch women, betrothed to men who have been in America from six months to several years, arrived in the first and second cabin and steerage of the Anchor liner Caledonia from Glasgow Some of the first cabin voyagers were met at the pier by men who took them away to marry them. The steerage passengers, who were taken to Ellis Island, may be released and married tomorrow.

Easily Roused

Smith—"Do you find it hard to wake in the morning?"

Jones—"Not a bit. After the cook calls me at 6.30 and the alarm clock rings at 6.45 and the 7 o'clock whistles blow and my wife pulls me out of bed at 7.15, I seldom fail to be roused."

ESCAPED POLICE BY CLEANLINESS

Clever Burglar's Fastidious Habits Threw the Blood Hounds Off His Trail

BATHED AFTER ROBBERY

He Also Changed His Clothes and Scented Himself — Police Dogs Were Useless

Paris, June 3.—Police dogs are useless in tracking the aristocracy of the French criminal community, as was shown in a recent case in Paris A series of daring burglaries had been committed at Chantilly, Malmaison and other fashionable resorts near Paris, and were pronounced by detectives to be the work of one man.

In his last job the burglar left behind him a pair of shirt cuffs. Here was a valuable clue, the police thought. Immediately Gaudry, the best police dog in Paris, was sent for and the hunt began, the detectives following hot foot. The trail was uncertain, over hedges and stiles, through fields and ditches, the dog led them until a small stream was reached. Here Cherry lost the scent completely and the searchers returned discomfitted, the disappointment being all the greater because the burglary was an affair of some importance, 800 worth of jewelry having been stolen.

Purely by acident the burglar finally fell into the hands of the police when one of the men selling some of his plunder to a jeweler at Rheims-Lepine closely questioned the man, one Andre Lamoulon, a master of his trade, as to the means he employed in baffling his pursuers.

"Nothing simpler," came the answer, "Nothing else but personal cleanliness. Whenever I have executed a crib I change every stitch of clothing I have on me. Besides, on my last job I took a bath in the little stream and perfumed myself strongly from a bottle of scent which I always carry for the purpose."

Thus the police have run up against the problem of how to circumvent the well-washed and daintily perfumed modern professional cracksman.

gained currency throughout the Province that everything was not right in governmental circles, and a feeling of grave mistrust was plainly evident. Immediately after the assembling of the House a number of the members, including myself, who had been elected as supporters of the Rutherford administration, approached the members of the cabinet with a view to procuring, if possible, some satisfactory explanation of the terms of the contract which had been entered into between the Government and the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Company; and it was because no satisfactory explanation was, or has yet, been given concerning that contract that the trouble arose which has led to the downfall of the Rutherford administration. I believe that those former supporters of the government who took exception to the autocratic attitude of the government had no other alternative, if they placed manly principles and their country's welfare before party, than to act as they did.

Wanted Information

"A contract in which the credit of the province has been pledged to the stupendous extent of seven and a half millions of dollars had been entered into on behalf of the people by their servants and when the people's representatives asked for information respecting it, that information was denied them. That, gentlemen, is not liberalism, as I understand it, nor is liberalism as it is understood by fourteen other Liberal members of the Legislature.

Attacks Lieutenant-Governor.

"The members of the Legislature (not the government) appointed a Judicial Committee to investigate the entire Alberta and Great Waterways contract, and pending the taking of the evidence and the reception of the Commission's report the House agreed to an adjournment. From the very moment adjournment took place certain influences began to work with a view of frustrating the will and wishes of the people, and it will forever be a stain on the province and to the lasting disgrace of the individuals concerned when posterity is informed that two of the supposedly highest dignitaries of the province, a Chief Justice and a Lieutenant-Governor, were the prime instigators in the nefarious work.

"At the expiration of the adjournment the Commission had not completed its labors, but instead of permitting the members to enjoy that right and privilege which is undoubtedly constitutionally their, of moving a further adjournment, his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor took upon himself the responsibility of proroguing the House and calling upon his assistant in the work of political jugglery to form a ministry.

A Word for Cushing

"I protest, gentlemen, against these tactics. Liberalism does not gain in honor, or strength by the elimination from its ranks of such men as the Hon. W. H. Cushing and the calling in of men who are absolutely without any political standing or following in the province. Nor does the province gain prestige or honor by such tactics as have during the past few weeks defaced it. It was by and through the efforts of Hon. W. H. Cushing and those who supported him that the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway contract and agreement was brought to the light of day. Had it not been for the attitude which Mr. Cushing and his followers adopted the province would have been saddled with one of the most iniquitous contracts that has ever been conceived, a contract that would have burdened the province for years to come. It was as a result of the fight put up by Mr. Cushing and his followers that led to the downfall of the government of the day and I hold that it was the will and the wish of the people of the province and is today that Hon. W. H. Cushing should have been called upon to form a government in succession to the Rutherford ministration. Any other action on the part of the Lieutenant Governor is contrary to constitutional practice and tends to discourage honesty and straightforwardness in public life.

MAN GOES TO JAIL, WIFE IN HOSPITAL

Nine Months' Sentence Imposed on Saskatoon Man in Spite of Pathetic Appeal

STOLE FROM EMPLOYER

Magistrate Brown Said That That Was the Worst Kind of Stealing

Saskatoon, Sask., June 3.—Crying bitterly and pleading leniency for the sake of his wife who is ill in the hospital and his little family in very straightened circumstances, Jas. Selter pleded guilty to a charge of stealing goods from the hardware department of J. F. Cairns' store in the police court yesterday. The value of the goods stolen only amounted to $46.55 and had been taken when the prisoner was employed as a clerk in the store. He was sentenced to nine months at hard labor in Prine Albert jail.

The case was one of the most pitiable heard in the police court and the prisoner found many sympathizers in court. He sobbed practically during the entire trial, and when the magistrate pronounced sentence he broke down completely and cried. Magistrate Brown, in addressing the prisoner, said that the case had been clearly employer, from time to time, was the proven and that taking goods from an very worst kind of stealing. If employers were unable to put faith in employees it would be impossible to carry on business and for that reason he felt it his duty to impose a sentence that would give the prisoner time to think over what he had done and as to what course of life in future he should follow.

LABOR AND CAPITAL BOTH REPRESENTED

Royal Commission on Technical Education Has Been Appointed by Dominion Government

SIMPSON IS SECRETARY

Prominent Labor Man and Socialist of Toronto is Secretary and Official Reporter

Ottawa, June 3.—The following have been appointed members of the Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education, an appropriation to cover the expenses of which was voted at the last session of parliament: James W. Roberston, LL.D., of Montreal, chairman; Hon. John N. Armstrong, of North Sydney, N.S.; Dr. George Bryce, of Winnipeg; M. Caspard Deserres, of Montreal; Gilbert M. Murray, of Toronto, secretary of the Manufacturers' Association; David Forsyth, of Berlin, Ont.; James Simpson, of Toronto, secretary and reporter to the commission; Thomas Bengough, Toronto. The commissioners are empowered to pursue their investigations at such localities as may appear necessary in the Dominion of Canada, in Great Britain, the United States, France, Germany, and, subject to the Minister of Labor, elsewhere on the continent of Europe.

Capital and Labor.

It is stated by the Department of Labor that the two bodies, which have been most active in urging upon the government the necessity of appointing a commission on technical education, are the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, and in appointing Dr. Murray and Mr. Simpson, the government felt it had given to these bodies virtually their own nominees. Mr. Simpson is regarded here as having a wider knowledge of technical education than any other labor representative in the Dominion. It is expected that the commission will enter on its labors early in July. A start will be made by making a tour of the Dominion from Atlantic to Pacific, after which the commission will visit the United States, Great Britain, Germany, France, and any other countries thought necessary.

It is expected that at least a year will be required for the work. The commissioners will give their undivided time and attention to the work of the commission.

YOUNG MAN DEAD FROM LOCKJAW

Wounds Not Thought at First to Be Serious Had a Serious Ending

WAS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

He Was Only Eighteen Years Old and Lived With Brother on a Homestead

Saskatoon, June 3.—A young homesteader from Bladworth, named W. L. Christie, was brought into the city last Friday by A. W. Father. He was suffering from what was thought to be only slight gunshot wounds in the calf of the leg. He was detained at the city hospital and thought to be progressing favorably, but Wednesday lockjaw set in, and he passed away yesterday. The accident occurred while on a pleasure drive on May 24th, with several friends. Christie had a 22-calibre rifle with him, which he was in the act of loading when there was an accidental discharge, the bullet entering the calf of his leg. Being only a flesh wound it was not thought to be serious and it was not till signs of tetanus were observed that any fears were entertained of his recovery. Christie was only 19 years of age, and he and his brother were homesteading at Bladworth, but were natives of Lachute, Quebec, to which place the body will be shipped for burial year, the assessor's reason being that the value of the property is now in such a proportion as to justify the increase. The assessed value it $550,000. The agent of the owner would be willing to accept an assessment at $80,000 less than that figure. The property consists of 243 acres. The agents admitted that the property would be valuable but they contended that the assessment should be based on the present market value and not the probable future value. They also pointed out that they were going to practically give the city many acres of the land as streets would have to be laid out when the land was surveyed and subdivided. The continuation of Athabasca avenue alone would contain eleven acres, while at some corners there would be a vacant space of about a hundred yards The court they contended, should take that fact into consideration when deciding the matter.

However, both the Hudson's Bay matter and the latter controversy will be decided on Monday evening.

The court did a lot of other business, but allowed few appeals, most of them being made on grounds of an exceedingly flimsy character.
